COUNCIL MEETING

First July Meeting A Busy One—All Members Present. Assessing Board Appointed for East Elm and North Franklin Streets.

The Council members were all present last Monday evening for the first meeting of the Council for the month of July and with them was a goodly delegation of citizens; in fact all the seats were taken and late comers found "standing room only." After the usual preliminary routine the Council got down to the real business of the evening by passing a resolution appointing, F. L. Darby, F. Reynolds and C. A. Cole an assessing board to assess the costs of the East Elm street improvement which is now completed. Later in the evening when from report from the inspector the Council were assured that the North Franklin street improvement would be completed before the next regular meeting; a resolution was passed appointing F. Reynolds, C. A. Cole and G. B. Heise an assessing board to assess the costs of that street crosswalk which is now completed and final estimate has been filed with the clerk.

A request from W. A. Showalter asking for the establishment of a grade line in front of his property on Main street in the south end of town, was presented and the city engineer was instructed to establish such grade line. Mr. Ed Mikesell speaking in behalf of residents on West Elm street asked that the Council have glutin barrels removed from that street not only because of their unsightliness but also because they had come to be a nuisance. The clerk was instructed to notify the glutin company to remove the barrels within ten days.

Quite a large delegation of residents of Cherry street were present to voice their indignation over the fact that the completion of that street had been so long delayed also asking for crosswalks on that street; the matter of crosswalks was referred to the sidewalk committee and after consideration and discussion it was moved to instruct the city engineer to notify the contractor to proceed immediately with the completion of Cherry street and if contractor does not so proceed to the satisfaction of the engineer, then the engineer proceed with the work of completing said street.

Messrs R. R. Coon and son asked if they would be permitted to place an underground gasoline tank in front of their place of business on North Fulton street; the question was referred to the street committee. Complaint was lodged that the Wabash Railway Company were not living up to their agreement in regard to safeguarding the Fulton street crossing. The claim ordinance was passed and Council adjourned to meet Monday, July 20th.

REV. HENRY COATES.

Rev. Henry Coates who for the five years preceding the year 1897 was the pastor of the Congregational church of Wauseon, died at the hospital in Kalamazoo, Mich., Saturday, June 27, following a stroke of apoplexy. The funeral was held from his late home in Hudson, Mich., on Monday, June 29th.

Mr. Coates has been in failing health for some time past; for several years after leaving Wauseon he was pastor of the Congregational church at Metamora; residing at Morenci, falling health compelled him to give up this work and he removed to Hudson, Michigan. Some three weeks ago Mr. Coates condition became so bad that it became necessary to remove him to the hospital at Kalamazoo, where he died as noted above. During Mr. Coates pastorate in Wauseon he made many warm friends both within and without the membership of the Congregational church and he held the respect and esteem of the entire community; he entered heartily into all public movements for the betterment of the town and for business and social progress and contributed to the development of the town by building the beautiful residence located at the North end of Clinton street. Many in Wauseon will learn with real regret of Mr. Coates decease and will sincerely sympathize with the bereaved family.

His work is done and he has entered upon that rest which awaits the laborer at the end of life's day. And yet we cannot think of life as ended for such as he; rather, let us say it has just begun in a truer, higher, holier sense.

PROGRESSIVES AT REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES

There is a great interest in the declaration of Secretary of State Graves that under the law Progressives cannot vote at the Republican primaries. This ruling is under an old law passed to prevent fraud at county and district primaries, but there are contentions that the law has been superseded by that passed February (1914), covering State-wide primaries, and that under the latter law those who declare themselves to be Republican will be entitled to vote at the forthcoming Republican primaries.

But there is another view which practically negates the claim that Roosevelt voted for Col. Roosevelt in 1912 he necessarily is prevented from voting the Republican primaries next month. The contention referred to is that any man who voted for a majority of candidates on the Republican ticket in 1912 is entitled to vote at the Republican primaries. This is the position taken by a number of experts over the State, and it is probably the one which will be accepted generally.

Anyhow, it is hardly likely that there will be many Republican judges of elections at the polling booths who will challenge any former Roosevelt man or even any former out-and-out Progressive who might ask for Republican ballot at the primary.

There is good legal authority for taking the position that the statute quoted by Secretary of State Graves in support of his position is unconstitutional, in that it unreasonably restricts citizens in the expression of their political opinions. Even if the law is not unconstitutional, it is in the general estimation—a piece of tomfoolery.

REUNION.

All those who attended the schools taught by Jonathan Hunt, Frank or James Templeton, (known as the Curtis school) of town or south of town (known as the Centerville school) and those who attended the school in the village taught by either Hunt or Templeton, together with their families, are invited to meet at Swanton August 20, with well filled baskets, to hold their first reunion and renew the old friendship of school days. The following committees have been selected. Committee on grounds, Mrs. C. F. Mills, C. O. Manley, I. A. Cass; Committee of Program, Mrs. J. L. Hollis, Mrs. P. H. Beard, Mrs. Fred Hollis; Chairman Committee on tables and dinner, Mrs. A. J. Lombard; Committee on Reception, Chairman A. A. Brown. All those who know the names and addresses of pupils attending these schools, will kindly send to the secretary a list of game at once so that present records may be established.

COURT ACTIVITIES

The Mill of The Law Grinds On Through The July Days. Recent Cases In The Common Pleas Court of Fulton.

Notwithstanding the presence of the days when the normal lawyer would rather "go fishing" than most anything else and Judge and court attendants would like a respite from vexatious legal problems, the June term of Common Pleas Court in Fulton County stretches on through these warm July days and the legal grind goes on.

Thus far in July the bar docket shows three divorces granted and one dismissed. Moses L. Hall received a decree of divorce from his wife Nora Hall. The trial proceeded to Verlie Bovee from her husband Charles Bovee and custody of minor child given to the mother.

Maud Jackson was granted a divorce from Charles Jackson on the ground of extreme cruelty and the custody of five minor children was given her by the court.

In the case of Charles L. Collins vs Lillian Pontious et al, partition of property, the property in litigation was appraised and plaintiff elected to take property at appraised value; the Court confirmed election and ordered deed.

Title was quieted in the case of John Holman et al vs John E. Hunt et al.
On Monday of the present week the trial of the case of Arthur Wright of Amboy vs The Toledo Western Ry. Co. was brought before the petit jury. About two years ago Mr. Wright had four head of cattle killed by the Toledo Western cars, he sued for damages. The trial proceeded through Monday and Tuesday morning Judge Scott charged the jury; the jury returned at 11 o'clock with a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $259.45. The jury was discharged as to this case, and Judge, jury, court officers and lawyers rested from the grind; all except the clerk of courts who with his deputy, like Tennyson's Brook, though courts may come and courts may go, goes on forever.

UNION MEETINGS START WELL.

Last Sunday night the first of the Sunday night union meeting of the Protestant churches of Wauseon was held in the Christian church. A large and attentive congregation was present to help in the singing and listen to the sermon on "What shall I do with Jesus." The sermon was preached by Rev. Williams pastor of the Congregational church.

Next Sunday night the meeting will be held in the Baptist church at 7:30. It is evident that the churches are taking a deep interest in these union meetings and that they will be held by Rev. Williams pastor of the Congregational church.

FROM MANITOBA.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, July 3, 1914. Editors Tribune, Wauseon, Ohio:—I am now and have been for the past six weeks in Winnipeg, the Gateway to the Golden West, and the Tribune is certainly a welcome visitor to me every Monday, except when it gets lost on its way down here; it seems like a great big letter from everybody to me. I have missed two copies of the paper since I left home on March 17th, and I can assure you that I missed them too.

It is very warm here at present, and we have had but very little rain but the crops are looking fine and if we can only get a nice rain within the next week or ten days their will be no end to the wheat and oats crop here for everything is looking fine.

We are having a red hot election on here just now and perhaps it is accountable for the hot weather. You may talk of rotten elections in old Fulton county, but they are not in it with these old English and Scotch and Kanucks over here in Canada. They have got them all skinned as far as liars are concerned when it gets down to electioneering; yes even the women have had a fairly good education and they can get up and lie as fast as the men can. Equal chances in the world finances. Woman's Suffrage and salaried wives, seems to be the main thing over here at present.

Well this election deal is getting to be an old thing over here, but we are having something new coming on soon. The grand lodge of Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters are going to meet here in Convention, from 4-14 of Aug, and all arrangements for a good time have been made.

If it should happen that any members of either of the order above mentioned should come down here to attend this gathering I would be more than pleased to have them call on me. I will try and show them around the city, which is the most beautiful city of its size that I have ever seen. Even though it is in the Canadian northwest, there is none better.

COMMUNITY CENTER.

Everywhere nowadays farmers and townspeople are working together in preserving and developing their communities. This is a logical result of modern conditions, for there has hardly been a time in the history of the United States when this kind of co-operation has been more needed than at present. In the pioneer days the town was little more than a place to trade, but it was indispensable for that purpose alone. The modern town is not only the trading center of the community but it is its social and educational center as well.

Some citizens have sometimes overlooked or underestimated the importance of the social advantages afforded by the small country town that would be wholly unsupplied if not provided by the town. Local trade and commerce produce and retain wealth and prosperity where that trade is carried on—in the rural community.

The Ohio State University has just issued a bulletin regarding the department of Journalism in that institution. Mr. Joseph Simmons Myers an alumnus of the O. S. U., has been called to take charge of this department. Mr. Myers has been in newspaper work ever since his graduation from O. S. U. in 1887, and resigns as managing editor of the Pittsburgh Post to assume his new duties. The course in Journalism extends through four years and the degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred upon those who complete the course which is at once thorough and practical. The result ought to be a renaissance of the lost art of Journalism, in the State of Ohio at least.
